THE RED FORT

The Red Fort Complex was built as the palace fort of Shahjahanabad – the new capital of the fifth Mughal Emperor of India, Shah Jahan. Named for its massive enclosing walls of red sandstone, it is adjacent to an older fort, the Salimgarh, built by Islam Shah Suri in 1546, with which it forms the Red Fort Complex.

THE JANTAR MANTAR (NEW DELHI)

At the centre of New Delhi stands the 42 m high India Gate, an "Arc-de-Triomphe" like archway in the middle of a crossroad. Almost similar to its French counterpart, it commemorates the 70,000 Indian soldiers who lost their lives fighting for the British Army during the World War I. The memorial bears the names of more than 13,516 British and Indian soldiers killed in the Northwestern Frontier in the Afghan war of 1919.

QUTUB MINAR

Built in the 13th century Qutub Minar is not only the highest brick minaret in the world but also one of the famous historical landmarks of India. Being the cultural UNESCO World Heritage Site, Qutub Minar attracts thousands of visitors everyday. Visiting the tourist spot, one would come across the surrounding archaeological area that comprises funerary buildings, notably the magnificent Alai-Darwaza Gate, the masterpiece of Indo-Muslim art which was built in the year 1311, and two mosques.

TAJ MAHAL

The Taj Mahal is located on the right bank of the Yamuna River in a vast Mughal garden that encompasses nearly 17 hectares, in the Agra District in Uttar Pradesh. It was built by Mughal Emperor Shah Jahan in memory of his wife Mumtaz Mahal with construction starting in 1632 AD and completed in 1648 AD, with the mosque, the guest house and the main gateway on the south, the outer courtyard and its cloisters were added subsequently and completed in 1653 AD. The existence of several historical and Quaranic inscriptions in Arabic script have facilitated setting the chronology of Taj Mahal.
